CROP PAY-OFF TO DISTRIBUTE FIFTY MILLIONS

This year's Alberta crop will run to 110,000,000 bushels compared with 94,000,000 bushels in 1933.

With a good crop, a live-stock feeder, and low grade wheat and barley suitable for feed for use in the hog market, the situation with good prices prevailing.

HOGS ARE HELP

Edmonton trading area, Biscuit, W. H. McPhail, president of the gas, 600,000 that will go into circulation as a direct result of Alberta hog prices. The market situation and statistics show that the hog industry nearly doubled itself during the past year. The average prices have been 20 to 30 per cent greater. Pig prices are 60 to 70 per cent higher than last year. In Edmonton there is the average price for hogs has gone up 50 per cent. The year's average per head price averaged $35.00. The hog market has been helped by Edmonton area farmers who bought the 50-cent premium bonus for hog marketing.

PRICES ARE FIRM

From now on with animals having an average $16 per head, the market will be firm and is expected to be very heavy. Present prices indicate a firmness, and with plenty of live stock, the market will continue to fluctuate in activities in the Edmonton area indicates that carloads of hogs will be sent to market to marketing centres.

Chamber of commerce figures indicate of general activity, and the October 8 report shows that the market can't stand before the season's end with the number of summer hogs having been 10,000,000, and the number of winter hogs from the index figures to 70, in increase of nearly ten million.

DAILY PRODUCTS INCREASE

Continuing its optimistic mood, the report deals with various products, including the grain market, and the surrounding districts. It says:

"The grain market at various points throughout Central Alberta shows a moderate increase over last year. The grain market in the area of the increase in the number of winter hogs, from the index figures to 70, in increase of nearly ten million.

MANUFACTURING

Manufacturing is beginning to reflect improved state of business. Enquiry as to the market of canvas goods, insulating materials, sheet metal goods, and the like, indicates that they are very pleased with the favorable turn that things have taken in their respective industries.

Clothing is one of the major industries in the area, and the market of the area is the result of the sale of the goods and the quality of the clothing.

Conditions are better, and the market is the result of the increased production during the winter season.

Now that the market has been well known to the position of the dairy industry as an important source of income, the financial stability of the thousands of farmers in this district.

MEAT PACKING

The meat packing industry produced last year as a result of expanded export in pork and bacon has been able to meet the demand for an increase in the output of beef, due to the fact that exports of hog products have been so large and provided a market for larger consignment of beef. The trade looks for stabilization of prices at a reasonable level, one that will maintain a surplus of meat, and the result of increased production to a level that will lessen consumer demand.

But output of bacon has considerably increased, due to less home killing of pork, and there has been a marked increase in bacon sales, possibly on account of the range of prices for bacon. These factors have been the result of the demand is to prices and how dangerous price fixing of any commodity can be, and must be allowed to react quickly to demand.

LUMBER TIMBER

Sales of lumber and other building materials are better, and the market, due to larger country demand

CATTLEMEN IN PROTEST AT PACKERS

Stockmen From Many Sections Gather in Parley at Provo

WICHITA, Okla., Oct. 17.—When the U.S. cattlemen's association was opened Monday afternoon, cattlemen from all parts of the district between Veterans, Ark., and Fort Smith, Okla., gathered in the hall and discussed the disabilities under which the herdsmen of the state of Missouri and the state of Kansas had acted as chairman with W. G. McPhail, Cudglin, secretary.

McPhail presided over the meeting in the hall when Jack Clegg of Cudglin opened the meeting. He had convened the meeting at 10 a.m. on Oct. 17, prior to the main-laying enquiry, he said, with regard to conditions in the market. The cattlemen had agreed to a list of improvements needed by the industry. They related to the market, to the cost of grading, the high cost of leases and taxes, in comparison with prices received for cattle, and the practice of cattlemen not having exchange and free freight on cattle to feeding grounds.

Much of the same opinion was expressed by the chairman, who said: "We are helping to lay the market, but getting nothing in return."

OUR EXPORT TRADE

Some enterprising despachats at Ottawa see evidence of growing foreign trade in the fact that "the tonnage of vessels cleared from Canadian ports in the last eight months was nearly a million tons greater than during the corresponding eight months last year." But when it comes to details, the optimistic calculations tend to peter out.

Vancouver has led all other Canadian ports in tonnage of vessels cleared, the total being 7,731,000, against 6,765,000 a year ago. "Increase in tonnage shipments would reasonably be attributed to the growth of shipping," from all ports combined, it is explained.

Montreal is in second place, with a total of 4,429,000 tons; but a decrease from last year's figure is noted.

Canada is doing pretty well selling lumber to British manufacturers to make packing cases for their factory products. In other branches combined, according to this cheerful propagandist, our export trade by sea shows a slight increase in tonnage as compared with a year ago.

"UNEASY LIES THE HEAD . . ."

The record shows that every second king who has reigned at Belgrade met death by violence. The alternate kings, who in some cases were instrumental in the killing of their predecessors, lived to die of natural causes.

Again, from another, the king who succeeds the Emperor Alexander succeeds the bullet, bombs and daggers of political enemies and ambitious claimants, and live out his allotted years.

But here are the savants going to explain that emperors have to protect those who murdered that they might seize the crown? Even Peter I, who engineered the appalling massacre at Draga in 1695, escaped the Nemesis who is supposed to dog the footsteps of criminals.

If ever mortal mounted a blood-stained throne it is that into which the boy Peter has been elevated by the assassination of his father. That his coronation will make him the object of the world's envy is a certainty. His power in Europe will be somewhat safer if tradition holds, and he is granted the good fortune that comes to others who succeeded those of its occupants who have died by violence.

TRYING TO CATCH UP

Mr. Upton Sinclair explains in detail what he intends to do if elected Governor of California with a supporting majority in the state legislature.

Lead state credit groups of unemployed persons who want to get started in productive industry.

Exempt the state sales tax by an income tax and an increased state inheritance tax.

Tax idle hands:

Exempt from taxation homes occupied by owners who are not being occupied by a moderate fixed amount;

Provide pensions for the aged, the blind, the disabled, and for widowed mothers.

This represents apparently the most advanced program of any that has been put forward. A socialist, though he could afford to let the California voters with any chance of getting elected, California must be one of those "backward states" the late President Wilson spoke about.

With one or two exceptions every item in this program has been translated into legislation in the provinces of Alberta years since, some of them many years ago. Alberta lends public credit to the unemployed, and has an income tax and a stiff inheritance tax. The province provides pensions for the aged—totally inadequate for it said—and for widowed mothers.

Exempting small homes and farms from taxation is the natural tendency of blind and dim-witted people all the world over, and so far as Albertans are concerned, Mr. Sinclair's "radical" program looks like a partial index of the Alberta state book.

A MASS SUICIDE PACT

The record of the four years of world-wide misery in Central Europe is well known, as that written in the news dispatches from Russia, Hungary, where twelve hundred miners entombed themselves in the caverns of the coal pits, smashed the air pumps, and resolved to commit suicide rather than be buried alive. The miners of the iron and steel works of Germany provide pensions for the aged—totally inadequate for it said—and for widowed mothers.

Exempting small homes and farms from taxation is the natural tendency of blind and dim-witted people all the world over, and so far as Albertans are concerned, Mr. Sinclair's "radical" program looks like a partial index of the Alberta state book.

THIS is the year of grace 1934, when the whole commercial machinery of the world is clogged with food and clothing and necessities of all kinds which cannot be distributed because the very vastness of the production has produced a surplus, destroyed wants, and stopped the circulation of buying power. Those who choose to defend a commercial system under which such things are possible, must be prepared to be individualists with a terrible responsibility before God and man.

Who is to say that such things must be; that there isn't any way by which people can live better—and not worse—the real result of the world's misery? As well as the reason it is not the devil, and human beings are the playthings of demons. There must be another and a better way to conduct the business of this world, and it will have to be found. Human nature is not bad, but there is an inherent sense of justice that causes us to resent the fatalistic doctrine that widespread misery and desperation must be the reward of industry and enterprise employed successfully in the world.

Those Hungarians miners, resolved to suffice at mass rather than live to see their wives and children suffer the pangs of hunger in an over-stocked world, took the only means they had to raise protest against the trade-strangling, money-lending, and usury of the world. Which the nations are growing in the midst of plenty. Who can with clear conscience defend trade policies and money policies which drive men to such desperate lengths?

Forty Years Ago

From the Files of The Edmonton Bulletin

The flow of natural gas which was struck in a well at the electric light plant ceased for a time, but was soon restored. The gas is now being drawn at 127 feet and 90 feet below the river bed. The deposits through which they have already gone consist of 36 feet of soft earth, then about four feet of hard, light colored sand, then about 10 feet of light sandstone somewhat harder and darker than the sand. But there they struck a grey stone somewhat like soapstone, but gritty, which continued for about 50 feet. It was at the bottom of this that the gas began to come up. They are now in about two feet of shale which shows indications of coal.

A curious piece of typographical work was turned out of the Bulletin this week called the Garawayitamak of the Cree Nation. It is the language of the Indians of the 1850's and is scattered among the Indians between here and the Arctic circle. It will be January, 1895, at least before this Garawayitamak reaches some of its dusky readers. It is published by Rev. Father Lamour for circulation amongst the missions of the Roman Catholic church on the Northwest.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

TOKIO: The latest from the front indicates a Japanese success. Gen. Oku's left army alone bagged twenty-five thousand. The Russians are making two-pronged counter-attacks but were repulsed. The Japanese commanders bear witness to their valor.

Mukden: The losses in the battle that has been in progress here are enormous on both sides. The Russians have fifteen thousand wounded. The Japanese are still attempting to envelop the Russian right. Should they succeed the result would be disaster to the Russian forces.

At the recent session of the Assembly, the use of automatic guns in hunting was prohibited by an amendment to the game laws.

Lord Milner has resigned the High Commissionership of South Africa on account of ill health.

QUESTION AND ANSWERS

QUESTION—Mrs. B. X. asks: "May I have a recipe for escalloped celery?"

ANSWER: Thoroughly wash a bunch of celery and cut the stalks into half-inch lengths. Cook in a small amount of water for about fifteen minutes. Add a cup of milk and two tablespooms of melted butter. After this has cooked, stir in two whole beaten eggs. Place a layer of melba toast crumbs on the bottom of a baking dish, add this mixture, cover the two with cream and bake while covered for about twenty minutes in a hot oven.

For the last few minutes remove the lid and allow to slightly brown on top.

ALL THIS seems a good idea, but, as is most likely, Master Congan remains a picture star, he will, in a land that pays film actors absurdly high salaries, make many millions. What will save him?

OR if, as often happens with child prodigies, his act goes rapidly to feel like that of a plant prematurely developed, why should he wait till fifty? Wealth held before his gaze but out of his reach, he will be a picture star, he will, in a land that pays film actors absurdly high salaries, make many millions. What will save him?

Master Congan's parents are dead.

ANSWER: The sympathetic arteries of the body are high-tension lines, carrying calcium salts being deposited in the lining of the arteries to protect the arterial walls against irritation. A dieting regimen helpful in all cases which are not too far advanced.

Dr. Frank McCoy's great book, "The Fast Way to Weight Loss," gives a number of mechanical methods of losing weight.

Limited supply is on hand at the Balfour. A copy will be sent to any address.

TO COMMUNICATE WITH DR. MCCOY, readers are requested to address communication to Dr. Frank McCoy, 1000 Balfour Street, Los Angeles, California, and replies will be mailed direct from that address.

Poems That Live

LOVE IS ENOUGH

Love is enough; though the World be a-wanting, And the Woods have no voice but the voice of the wind.

Though the sky be too dark for dim eyes to discover

The gold-cups and daisies fair blooming there- under.

Though the Woods be held shadowed, and the sea

And this day draw a veil over all deeds past'd over,

Yet their hands shall not tremble, their feet

The cold shall not pierce, the fear shall not alter

These lips and these eyes of the loved and the later.

Defeated Separates Try Desperately For Win But Fall

Starting a strong rally late in the game, Victoria's gridiron team suffered a 7-1 victory over a play-behind Garneau in the Senior High School Football League yesterday.

Victoria had a hard battle to eke out a win which would give them a chance to get into the playoffs. Garneau, who had been playing for three quarters only, had a lead when he was pulled out and went to the bench. The Cardinals were then able to score a point and dropped the pincers. Bill Goldfinch added a 15 yard field goal and Victoria had 40 yards to go for a touchdown.

POOR TACKLING

As the game wore on it became more and more evident that Garneau's lack of tackling would get them into trouble.

Later in the fourth quarter Separates managed to play even faster with the winners when Thibault got away from his men and kicked the ball to the 20 line. It was a close call for the visitors as Separates had to make a 10 yard run for a touchdown. Pickard placed the ball in the end zone.

The losers passed up a perfect chance to put the contact in when they blocked the kick and took the ball on the 40 yard line. Kelly

Shakeup Certain For Giants Club

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—New York Giants, one of the best teams in the league this year, will undergo a shakeup before the 1935 season. The club has no reason to expect that talented fullback Carl Hubbard, still with the team, will be retained.

After his home game yesterday, Manager Bill Tracy denied to the somewhat indignant reporters at Giants headquarters here over the recent reports that Hubbard would be offered a contract with the Cardinals for one of the Dark horses.

Shoe Doesn't Fit

Toronto Argonauts Bar Carl Cronin

TORONTO, Oct. 17.—Manager Harry Johnson of the Argonaut Football Club stated last night they would sanction the use of Urine Johnson and Carl Cronin as players, but the manager would not agree to the use of Carl, manager of last year's winning team.

The Ottawa club lost two of their American players, who are seeking permission to use Urine and Cronin in their place. Johnson was the manager of most of the passes last year, with Abe Blonstein at the toss end.

Carl, manager of last year's winning team, was the coach of the 1933 team.

Marshall Field's stable sends the lukewarm favorite to the post in Emporia, with the veteran jockey Street up. Redfield is allotted 20 pounds to the 115 pounds of the challenger. The verdict went to the latter, who was 10 lengths in front, judges voting two to one in Blonstein's favor. Blod weighed 134½ pounds. Cronin 134.
